

Turn your special day into a memorable one...

Just imagine...

...having an award-winning jewellery designer, create something wonderful - and unique - for your wedding.

Wouldn't that be incredible? Of course it would...

Can you make it happen? Yes, you can...

Sue Hailstones is a fantastically talented jewellery designer, with clients all over the world. She is an award-winning artist of the very highest order.

And, she is passionate about her work - and adores it, when her amazing jewellery creations give so much pleasure to her 'friends'. (That's what Sue calls her customers!).

Sue loves designing unique creations for people to celebrate a special occasion. And special occasions don't come much bigger than a wedding.

So, why not ask Sue to create something for your special day?

Sue's creations are ` as individual as you are ` and her personal commissions are perfect, not only for you and your loved one, but also as a gift to thank your best man/woman, your bridesmaids or members of your wedding party.

All personal commissions can be engraved and personalised with dates and initials, colour co-ordinated to your wedding theme - and will be handmade personally by Sue in her workshop in Staffordshire.

A certificate of authenticity comes with every design.

It would add a wonderfully unique and classy touch to your special day - and would be a lovely gesture that no one would ever forget.

To find out more is so simple. Just email Sue using the contact facility on this website, or, if you prefer, please call Sue personally, on + 44 (0)1785 533018.

She would be delighted to hear from you.
