Subject Line: Flying glass can kill. Is your company protected?

When glass shatters as a result of an explosion, an accident or simply just a normal breakage, people can get badly hurt. Unfortunately, in a lot of cases, people can die.

Is your company doing its very best to ensure staff, customers and visitors are fully protected against the dangers of flying glass? If it's an area that you might have overlooked, don't despair. Help is at hand...

Panzerfilm offers wonderful protection for any glass-fronted area. This includes windows, doors, partitions and display areas. The film also acts as a superb filter that provides exceptional protection against the sun's harmful ultraviolet rays, also saving on air conditioning costs.

The Panzerfilm range of anti-shatter and sun protection films - is a quality product from Orpro - an international protective film company.

The company has great experience in protective glass film and has recently completed projects in the UAE for its clients, including - Burj Al Arab, Emirates Towers, Jumeirah Beach Hotel, HP, Shell and Grand Hyatt.

All our work is covered by a no-quibble warranty.

To find out how Panzerfilm could benefit you company, couldn't be easier. Just visit www.orpro.net/glass and complete the simple online form on the page. Or, if you prefer, call us on +9714 6526 3880, or email us at felicia@orpro.net
